Hi Lauren!

Thank you for thinking of SEED! I am so glad to hear that the game jam was successful and will be continuing next year. Unfortunately, we are in the process of selecting out leadership for next year. I can have the person selected to be the Executive Director for next year reach out to you after they are selected in mid-May.

If there is any additional information you would like me to convey to them about the project, especially if things are changing between the last game jam and the project for next year, please let me know! I hope that next year's SEED is as excited about the idea of collaborating with y'all as I am.

Sustainably,
Jessica
