Dan,
We got word of this from Kimo Griggs. Good luck!

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to express my support for the Campus Salvage Wood Initiative. Saving and using a local, sustainably harvested material that would otherwise go to waste is a wonderful idea that should be explored to the fullest. Students would benefit immensely from access to such a teaching tool, and this type of mission is perfectly in line with the reasons for which I chose to attend the University of Washington.

Please feel free to contact me if necessary.
